

Short CV

Athanasia Soutana

Mineral Resources Engineer, MSc

email: athanasiasoutana@gmail.com

Website: www.researchgate.net/profile/Athanasia_Soutana

Athanasia Soutana received her Diploma in Mineral Resources Engineering in 2011 and her MSc degree in the field of “Geotechnology and the Environment” from the School of Mineral Resources Engineering, Technical University of Crete, in 2014. She is a PhD candidate of Technical University of Crete, School of Mineral Resources Engineering. Her scientific and research interests include environmentally friendly methods for the exploitation of mineral resources, and especially the utilization of industrial by-products for the production of novel building materials. Athanasia Soutana has participated in the publication of several papers in scientific journals and conferences. She has participated in several research programs concerning recycling uses of construction and demolition waste and quarry by-products in the construction sector.